Lan 1 is a value-added distributor of IP Storage, IP Networking, IP Security and IP CCTV products and associated professional services. We work with channel partners around Australia and Pacific Islands to assess, design, implement, manage and service mission critical IP CCTV Ecosystems in the local government, education, retail, health, mining and hospitality sectors.

As a value-added distributor, Lan 1's success is completely dependent on the success of our channel partners - that's why we provide everything you require to successfully meet your customer's objectives. Every Lan 1 channel partner is provided with a dedicated, highly trained Channel Account Manager, backed by specialised Business Managers and a technical support team delivering a range of services including rapid and advance replacement, system scoping and design, implementation and troubleshooting assistance, staging and pre-configuration, onsite and remote support, and wireless site surveys and network security audits.

Lan 1 keeps its channel partners up-to-date by conducting regular product workshops, vendor certification courses, and relevant eNews updates. We even assist channel partners with their marketing and lead generation activities to increase their sales opportunities.

With an end-to-end portfolio of complementary products, and a highly experienced team of experts, you can rely on Lan 1 to meet all your IP Storage, IP Networking, IP Security and IP CCTV needs.
